welcome to your personal clinic

Website Goals

The EXUSMED website should accomplish the following:

- Be easy to use.
- Limited number of click-throughs to complete each task.
- Aesthetically pleasing (simple and clean look).
- Different from all competitors (i.e., HealthTap, TelaDoc, MyChart) and other healthcare sites.
- Allow for multiple points to capture new patient and provider contact information (let the member help us promote our services, viral nature to the site).
- Limit EXUSMED liability.
 - Doctors make the final diagnosis/treatment options.
 - Most of secured information is stored via third-parties (i.e., payment processing, EHR).

welcome to your personal clinic

Website Creative Design

Though the following pages should be a guide to the overall website design and provide functionality examples, not all design elements or functionality are represented. Extra care was taken to ensure that multiple pages utilize the same template for ease of overall coding.

EXUSMED expects the skilled design team and coding professionals at Parallel6 to use their judgment and industry best practices to accomplish our site goals.

Not represented in this presentation but design features expected of the final site include:

- Layers of dimension (shadowing of buttons, etc.).
- Animation between menu selections (not overly busy, but not static).
- Easy to update sections by EXUSMED staff (i.e., news, blogs).
- Automated emails when signing up, referring third parties and providers, appointment reminders, etc.
- Easy to read font (prefer Century Gothic).
- Easy to use search function.
- All buttons to match other button styles.
- Encounter button on right should be red, yellow or green depending upon time till encounter.
- Help button takes the member to the FAQ page with the ability for a live chat with an EXUSMED Customer Care agent.
- Automated logout after long idle period.

welcome to your personal clinic

Main Landing Page

The large logo mark in the center should be animated, three independent rotating images similar gyroscopes.

The top left logo should serve as a home button throughout the site.

The next two page examples are shown to reflect what transpires when the video icon is clicked, or the login/register button.

The patient should immediately be able to view an overview of their profile (fields pulled from other menu items).

The 'Next Encounter' button appears informing the member when the time till the next encounter (The Next Encounter button is displayed as follows:

- Green – Encounters greater than 5 minutes away
- Yellow – Encounters between 2 minutes and 5 minutes away
- Red – Encounters between 1 minute and 2 minutes away
- Flashing Red – Encounters less than 1 minute away.

The inbox appears, a place for the patient to view any messages received from the provider or new lab or test results. A numerical indicator will appear with the number of messages similar to Facebook.

Add/Remove Provider Selected

The patient can view their current list of providers already inputted in their NEXUS below, or search for and select a new provider above.

Upon beginning to search the box automatically begins to populate provider's via a smart search function similar to Facebook.

The 'provider type' reflects the relationship to this particular patient (i.e., primary provider, secondary provider). The provider later or a facilitator could edit this listing later.

The patient can add/remove third parties to their NEXUS.

The patient has the ability to add individuals to their NEXUS. These individuals are dependents or healthcare workers such as those in retirement homes or hospice workers that will then be provided the ability to third party into the patient's encounters or via the patient's EHR information.

The functionality of this section is similar to the add /edit provider section.

Patient Encounter Page

The patient encounter page pops up as a separate page or new tab allowing the patient to toggle back and forth between their encounter and other system functionalities (i.e., EHR).

All members of the encounter must have created a member profile. Each patient's and provider's information populates in the fields (names, relation to patient). If any individual hasn't uploaded a profile photo a 'no photo' silhouette will populate.

Providers are represented in the chat box, circles and captions by the color blue; the patient and his/her NEXUS individuals in green.

For encounters with large numbers of individuals, each member has the ability to scroll through the people in almost a rotary phone fashion.

welcome to your personal clinic

Each member should have the ability to turn their own video/audio on/off.

An encounter code will be generated for each counter for ease of each member to join via telephone.

A pop-up box will appear asking “Are you sure you want to stop the encounter?” upon clicking exit encounter or attempting to close the window.

The EHR dates should be clickable to expand fully, all initially closed except last encounter for most recent notes.

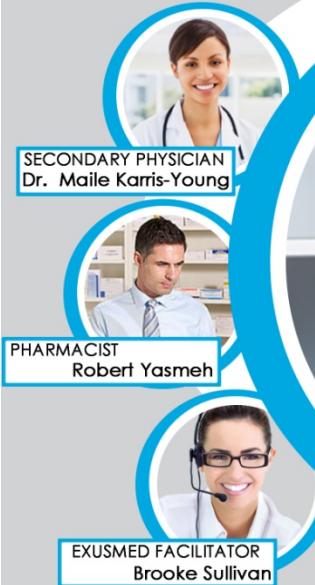

The video encounter operate similar to Google Hangout, where the person doing the majority of the speaking populates to the respective large bubbles (provider or patient side).

Provider Encounter Page

The provider encounter page pops up as a separate page or new tab allowing the patient to toggle back and forth between their encounter and other system functionalities (i.e., EHR).

All members of the encounter must have created a member profile. Each patient's and provider's information populates in the fields (names, relation to patient). If any individual hasn't uploaded a profile photo a 'no photo' silhouette will populate.

Providers are represented in the chat box, circles and captions by the color blue; the patient and his/her NEXUS individuals in green.

For encounters with large numbers of individuals, each member has the ability to scroll through the people in almost a rotary phone fashion.

welcome to your personal clinic

Each member should have the ability to turn their own video/audio on/off.

An encounter code will be generated for each counter for ease of each member to join via telephone.

A pop-up box will appear asking “Are you sure you want to stop the encounter?” upon clicking exit encounter or attempting to close the window.

The EHR dates should be click to expand fully, all initially closed except last encounter for most recent notes.

The video encounter operate similar to Google Hangout, where the person doing the majority of the speaking populates to the respective large bubbles (provider or patient side).
